

STRONG4LIFE™

Firearm Storage Devices

There are a variety of firearm storage options and devices that prevent a firearm from being fired. Each has unique characteristics. The best storage device is one that you will use consistently and meets your needs. Firearm storage devices can be purchased online or in store at gun shops, sporting goods stores, firearm manufacturer websites and occasionally local law enforcement agencies.

STORAGE DEVICE	DESCRIPTION	PROS AND CONS	PRICE RANGE
Cable Lock 	Cable locks use a flexible steel cable that threads through the firearm's action or magazine to prevent the firearm from operating.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>✓ Pros: Easy to use, lightweight, versatile and can be used with various types of firearms.</li><li>✗ Cons: Firearm must be unloaded and requires skill to dismantle.</li></ul>	$5 to $20
Trigger Lock 	Trigger locks cover the trigger of a firearm to prevent unauthorized firing.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>✓ Pros: Quick and easy to install, compact, inexpensive and compatible with most types of firearms.</li><li>✗ Cons: Firearm must be unloaded.</li></ul>	$10 to $30
Combination Lock Box 	Combination lock boxes are equipped with a combination lock mechanism designed to store firearms.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>✓ Pros: Higher level of security than cable or trigger locks, portable, easy to access and can be used in a vehicle if secured to the car.</li><li>✗ Cons: Anyone with the combination could access the lock box, and it is not suitable for larger firearms.</li></ul>	$30 to $150
Biometric Lock Box 	Biometric lock boxes uses fingerprint recognition technology to secure a firearm.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>✓ Pros: High level of security, quick and convenient access, no need to store keys or combinations.</li><li>✗ Cons: Typically cost more than the other options and are electronically operated (with key backup).</li></ul>	$50 to $300
Gun Safe 	Gun safes are heavy-duty, secure storage containers designed to safely store firearms and other valuables.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>✓ Pros: Highest level of security, capacity for large or multiple firearms and accessories, may protect against fire and water damage.</li><li>✗ Cons: Significantly larger than other storage options and costs more.</li></ul>	$200 to $1,500+

For more information, visit Strong4Life.com/firearms

